

From the Director of Missions

As we approach the beginning of spring we know that it won't be long before we will get to see all of the beautiful colors on display as trees and flowers begin to bloom. The blossoms of the trees and flowers that we will soon get to admire are an outward expression of what is happening on the inside. There is so much that has to take place on the inside so that what is presented on the outside reveals the true beauty of the trees and flowers all around us. In many ways our lives as followers of Jesus are much the same. The outward expressions of God's beauty and love that are on display in our lives come from what is happening on the inside. As God works inside of us through His Word, through time in prayer, through worship, and through learning together with other believers the things of Him that fill our hearts and minds will come out and be displayed. As we consider our lives we need to consider how much of God's love is being outwardly revealed to a watching world? As we interact with others, both believers and non-believers, do they see an outward display of what God is doing on the inside? May we allow God to work in us so that His love will show through us and reveal a beauty that surpasses the beauty of the blossoms that will burst forth this spring!

Blessings,
Michael
